

COMPLAINTS

HERE TO GET you THERE

All complaints must be made via email only to administration@yplncricket.co.uk.

Complaints can take up a lot of League Official's time to investigate, and therefore a £50 administration fee must be paid to the League before any investigation takes place. This may be refunded if blame, fault, or wrongdoing can be proven against the person or club being complained against.

The League may take action against any complainant where it is felt that the allegation is vexatious. Any action may include a financial penalty, league points deduction, or the requirement for a club to apply for re-election to the league. This list is not exhaustive.

Where a complaint is upheld the defendant (club or person) will be dealt with by either an administration panel or disciplinary panel depending on the type of offence.
