Our legal basis for processing your data

The law sets out the potential legal bases for processing personal data. These differ depending on the nature of the personal data. The data processed by the League is defined as 'ordinary personal data' in the UK GDPR. There are two legal bases for processing ordinary personal data that apply to data processed by the League:

- Article 6 (a) Consent: where the individual has given clear consent for us to process their personal data for a specific purpose (for example to publish club or officials' contact details)
- Article 6(f) Legitimate interests: the processing is necessary for our legitimate interests for example, player registration, safeguarding issues, disciplinary issues.

To whom we may disclose your personal data

Other than data published by the League where content has been given so to do, data will be shared only with the ECB, YCB and other leagues where necessary in connection with legitimate interests such as:

- Player transfers
- Disciplinary issues
- Safeguarding issues

How we will hold your personal data

Contact details of club officials and umpires within the League are maintained by the LEB secretary and administration manager on a spreadsheet on secure private (non-network-linked) computers and devices, and are shared within the League with officials only in accordance with the above.

We will keep your personal data for as long as we need it for the purposes set out above, therefore this period will vary depending on your interactions with us. We will not hold data for longer than is required for legitimate League business as described above.

Security

Whilst we do everything within our power to ensure that personal data in our possession is protected at all times, we cannot guarantee the security of the information that has been transmitted to us.

Play-Cricket

The League uses its Play-Cricket site to communicate with players and officials belonging to the clubs within our league, and to record match statistics, in accordance with the Play-Cricket privacy statement <https://www.play-cricket.com/privacy>

Who's the Umpire

The League uses the Who's the Umpire site to notify umpires' appointments and to collect match reports from captains and umpires in the top divisions. The information obtained from reports is summarised and published by the League. The Privacy policy for Who's the Umpire can be found at www.whostheumpire.com/security_and_privacy

Your legal rights over your personal data and complaints

Where you have given your consent to any processing of personal data you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time. If you do, it will not affect the lawfulness of any processing for which we had consent prior to your withdrawing it.

You also have the right of access to your personal data and, in some cases, to require us to restrict, erase or rectify it or to object to our processing it, and the right of data portability.

To exercise your rights or if you have any concerns or complaints about how we are handling your personal data please, please contact us at secretary@yplncricket.co.uk You can also lodge a complaint at the Information Commissioner's Office.
