

LIVE STREAMING POLICY

Clubs who wish to Photograph, Live Stream or Record matches (or parts of matches) must follow the guidance given in the document 'ECB Live Streaming Guidance'.

The act of taking photographs, live streaming, or recording games, or any portion of such games, by any player or official engaged in the game on the playing field is expressly forbidden. Any individual found to be engaging in this activity, along with their respective Club, will face disciplinary measures.

While the league endorses the use of live streaming for matches, each individual club is responsible for ensuring that they, as well as anyone else wishing to live stream, adhere to the live streaming guidelines set forth by the England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB). A copy of these guidelines can be found in the General Information section of the YPLN website.

Any club or individual participating in the game has the right to formally request that a match not be live-streamed. This request must be honoured, or else the league may impose disciplinary actions. To ensure compliance, such requests should be submitted via email at least 48 hours prior to the scheduled game. The email should be directed to the Safeguarding Officer and Chair of the opposing club, as well as to the League at administration@yplncricket.co.uk.

Requests submitted after the 48-hour window, including those made at the toss, are strongly discouraged; however, they are still required to be followed. Umpires are tasked with verifying whether the match is being live-streamed during the toss but bear no responsibility for either facilitating or preventing live streaming.

The league will maintain a centralised database of clubs that express a desire to live stream their events.

This database will be accessible for public viewing on the league's official website.

Clubs that engage in live streaming without prior notification to the league will be subject to disciplinary measures. To register, clubs must submit their request via email to administration@yplncricket.co.uk.

Footage captured during a match shall not be utilised for the purpose of contesting the decisions made by the match umpires. Furthermore, any inappropriate remarks made during or subsequent to the game will be addressed in accordance with the disciplinary regulations set forth by the league.
